GABRIEL QUINTINO

JavaScript / Typescript Developer

I'm a calm, curious and hardworking person, always looking forward to learn from and grow with every experience, despite being shy I'm great at working in groups and making new friends.

I study JavaScript and Typescript development by myself for more than 3 years and currently I'm looking for a opportunity to start a carrier as Web Developer.

Experience

My best professional experiences were developing a web app to help my coworkers and developing a Discord Bot that integrated with Crisp Chat (The client must remain anonymous).

Most of my professional experience comes from my personal projects or from helping my friends with their projects.
